

Can you imagine the language that other passengers, flight attendants, and children would have to put up with? Is someone insane at the FCC?